Miss America Steps Into Glamor World

NEW YORK (UPI) — Miss America of 1962, Maria Beale Fletcher, 19, stepped into the glamor world of New York this morning to be fitted for her new wardrobe and sit for official photographs while still a bit breathless because it all happened to her.

At her first official meeting with newsmen in Atlantic City Sunday, the Asheville, N.C., beauty admitted that the first thing she did Sunday morning was buy a newspaper to make sure it wasn't a dream.

Thus assured, she attended the awards luncheon which replaced the coronation ball at this year's pageant. Following the luncheon, she met reporters and handled herself with pleasing aplomb.

Miss Fletcher spoke fondly of her beginnings in show business, under the tutelage of her parents on a television show of which they were hosts for two years in Asheville.

Miss America, recently a Radio City Music Hall Rockette, said she likes to read autobiographies and essays, makes many of her own clothes, but is not an expert cook.

"But I can toss a salad together or make a bowl of soup," she said.

New Concept in Fighting Fires

INDIO (UPI)—William Hackett came up with a new concept of fire fighting over the weekend—he transported his blaze to the fire station.

Hackett, a Balwin Park truck driver, was hauling a load of furniture on a highway about 20 miles south of here when he noticed smoke and flames at the rear of the trailer.

He drove straight to the State Forestry Fire Station where the flames were extinguished. Damage was estimated at $800.

RESCUERS SEEK 83 BODIES IN SHANNON RIVER AIR MISHAP

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI) — Rescue operations resumed at dawn today to recover the remaining bodies from the wreckage of a chartered United States-bound airliner which plunged into River Shannon, killing all 83 persons aboard.

The crash of the President Airlines DC6 early Sunday was the biggest air disaster in British history.

Among the victims were four American crewmen and two foreign-born stewardesses who lived in the United States.

Captain of the airliner, killed in the crash, was former Palm Springs resident and hotel owner, Capt. Edward Tonnesen, 40, divorced father of two children. His two children, daughters, lived with him and his parents at Corona Del Mar.

LEO CARRILLO
Leo Carrillo Dies of Cancer

Actor Leo Carrillo is dead of cancer at the age of 80.

The man who immortalized the character "Pancho" in the Cisco Kid, and who, riding his horse "Conquistador" rode in almost every Tournament of Roses parade and many times was a participant in the Desert Circus parades in Palm Springs, died Sunday evening at his Santa Monica Canyon home.

Frequently referred to as "Mr. California," Carrillo was steeped in the tradition of the west and took deep pride in the states' romantic Spanish-American history and the prominent part his family played in it.

Many years ago Carrillo lopped 10 years off his age, and because of his whirlwind pace and still-dashing appearance in recent years few guessed that he was nearing 80.

Last year he traveled 20,000 miles through South America as an ambassador for the 1964-65 New York World's Fair. During his life he led many public drives, among which was the purchase of the Plaza in downtown Los Angeles as the creation of a monument to the founding of the city.

Gov. Warren appointed Carrillo to the State Park Commission in 1941, a position he held until Jan.

tonnesen, who came to Palm Springs a few years ago and reportedly built the Matadore Hotel, quit flying at that time saying that it was too dangerous.

Capt. Tonnesen celebrated his 40th birthday the day of the crash. Sixty-three bodies, all mutilated, were pulled from the aircraft Sunday night before rescue operations were halted until daylight.

Airport authorities said preliminary investigation provided no explanation for the crash which occurred minutes after takeoff in darkness and fog for the United States. A fuller inquiry was scheduled.

The four-engined plane was en route from Dusseldorf, Germany, to Chicago, with German, Aus-

Carla Slams Into Texas Coast Area

173-Mile-Hour Winds, Great Tides Strike

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI) — Hurricane Carla slammed full force into the Corpus Christi area today with winds clocked by the Coast Guard as high as 175 miles an hour. Wind and tremendous tides forced more people to flee.

A critical shortage of fresh water developed on the flooded Texas Gulf Coast. Civil Defense officials called for outside help to evacuate some of the 5,000 to 6,000 people still in the badly flooded Texas city because of a lack of fresh water. A hospital in isolated Galveston said it had only a two-day supply and planned to trap rain water.

There were no reported casualties directly caused by Carla. Damage was extensive as the storm pressed against shore from the Gulf of Mexico with violent winds along an arc extending from Corpus Christi north to Morgan City, La.

Two refugees died of heart attacks, one at Orange, Tex., and one at Galveston. An infant was killed and 39 persons were injured at Kaplan, La. Sunday in a Carla-spawned tornado. One man was bitten by a snake in Galveston, but survived.

Damage in Millions

The mayor of Corpus Christi estimated damage in the city at $15 million after an inspection tour.

About 3,500 persons in the city were removed from the downtown area as winds rose toward 100 miles an hour and higher.

The Weather Bureau warned tides would rise to 15 feet above normal in hard-hit areas. An earlier Weather Bureau estimate of 25-foot tides in some bays and inlets was revised downward in a later weather advisory to "a little higher" than 15 feet.

The forward motion of the storm center stopped about 65 miles off Corpus Christi and the coast braced for an hours-long ordeal before the storm moves again and eventually thunders inland to wreak more damage with wind and rain.

Topple Into Sea

Buildings, and piers toppled into the sea along the coast. An empty grain ship broke loose in Corpus Christi Harbor and wallowed into other vessels until tugs got lines aboard it.

Hot electric lines lay broken and spattering on the ground. Roofs were ripped off houses like banana peels. Windows were shattered. Broken glass and torn-off tree limbs littered streets.

The Weather Bureau said the main target of the big blow was from Corpus Christi northward to Matagorda Bay, a distance of about 65 miles.

WADING in the waters of the central business district, residents in Galveston, Tex., stay on in the face of Hurricane Carla, which slammed into the Texas coast today. Back water from Galveston Bay began filling the streets of the island city Sunday, and more is expected Carla strikes. (UPI Telephoto)

Beachcomber Purchased by Hilton Group

The famed Don the Beachcomber's restaurant, in Palm Springs and Hollywood, has been sold to Barron Hilton, son of hotel magnate Conrad Hilton, and two Palm Springs men.

The sale price has been rumored at more than $1 million.

Hilton, who also owns the San Diego Chargers, American Football League team, was joined in the purchase by M. L. Binsting, Palm Springs resident, businessman and investor, and Joe Drown, owner of the Bel Air Hotel in Beverly Hills, the U.S. Grant in San Diego, and the Royal Air Apartments in Palm Springs.

Under the terms of the sale, the two restaurants will be run as they are now, keeping the present staffs. Sunny Sund, former owner of the chain, has been made vice president of the Palm Springs and Hollywood restaurants and retains ownership of the Beachcomber in Chicago.

The chain no longer operates the Beachcomber in Honolulu, which only recently was sold to a group which includes Duke Kahanamoku. The chain was originally started by Donn Beach, who for many years operated only the restaurant in Honolulu.

Soon to celebrate its 28th anniversary, the Beachcomber was the original restaurant serving south sea cuisine.

Missile Pad Strikes in Colorado

DENVER (UPI) — A wildcat strike at a Titan missile base near here spread to a second launching pad site Sunday.

About a dozen men walked off their jobs at site 2C, following Friday's walkout of 20 construction workers at site 1A. Only skeleton crews were working during the weekend.

Officials of the Northern Colorado Building and Trades Council promised a meeting today to try to get the workers back on the job. But the council expressed sympathy with its members' protest over erection of a fence at site 1A.

The President's National Missile Site Labor Relations Committee was expected to step into the dispute.

The trouble began when the Amco Fence Co., Houston, Tex., started to put up a fence around the launching pad.

News In Brief

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle returned to the Elysee Palace today while police throughout France continued to crack down on the underground organization which the government claims tried to assassinate him Friday night.

De Gaulle reached the presidential headquarters after driving back from his weekend retreat at Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises, 130 miles southeast of Paris.

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Union members walked off their jobs today at three Southern California General Motors assembly plants over a local contract dispute agreement by the United Auto Workers on a national level.

More than 5,700 employees at the Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac division at South Gate and at the Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants in Van Nuys were notified of the 8 o'clock deadline when the morning shifts reported.

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru said today he was certain that President Kennedy and Premier Nikita Khrushchev would meet to discuss the German and Berlin crisis.

The Indian leader, returning from the Belgrade conference of nonaligned nations, and four days of talks with Khrushchev in Moscow, said he believed world tension has eased a bit.

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—Hurricane Debbie, the season's fourth, roared with 85-mile an hour winds over the open Atlantic today but the Miami Weather Bureau said the storm was curving more toward the north and was not expected to hit the U. S. mainland.

Debbie was centered at mid-morning roughly due east of Cape Canaveral, Fla., in the distant open Atlantic.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States stands ready for "meaningful negotiations" with Russia in the Berlin crisis, the State Department said today.

Meantime, it added, this country will continue to seek a disarmament agreement with the Soviet Union despite the war clouds raised by Premier Nikita Khrushchev's threats to West Berlin.

OAKLAND (UPI) — Three Chevrolet plants here were struck today by about 1,450 members of union Local 1031.

GOLF BALL being cancelled by pretty Barbara Koenig, postal clerk at Bermuda Dunes, went through the mail with an address and stamp on its dimpled surface. Ray Ryan and Ernie Dunlevie, who founded the community several years ago mailed a flock of the balls to demonstrate the golf-mindedness of the area. They are believed to be the first ever cancelled by a post office.

310,000 Workers Walk Out

History's First Company-Wide And Biggest

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers Union went on strike against General Motors today in the first company-wide strike in the auto industry in 11 years and the biggest walkout affecting 310,000 workers in automotive history.

The union struck the world's largest manufacturing corporation at the stroke of its 8 a.m. PDT strike deadline after a marathon bargaining session, beginning Sunday morning and running all night, failed to produce agreement on a new contract.

GM and the union reached accord last week on the money terms of a new contract but were still at odds over the so-called non-economic issues involving working conditions and production standards.

The walkout will shut down all GM automobile operations, in 129 plants from coast to coast, just at the beginning of the 1962 model year.

The UAW had a $50 million strike fund built up, but this would last only about six weeks under union estimates that it would take $8 million a week to support a strike at GM.

Current contracts run out at Ford and Chrysler Wednesday, but the union plans to keep its members working at those two companies—without a contract if necessary.

First Strike Since 1950

Not since a 104-day strike against Chrysler in 1950 has the UAW called a company-wide strike against any of the big three. And not since the 113-day strike in 1945-46 has GM been shut down by a company-wide strike.

The noneconomic differences that led to the strike included union demands on production standards, guarantees against supervisors doing the jobs of hourly workers, insistence on a strong antidiscrimination clause on hiring, a guarantee against compulsory overtime and a demand for more union representatives to handle grievances.

In the production standards area, the union early today dropped its demand for a 10-minute coffee break and five minutes wash-up time a day and substituted a proposal for a guaranteed 24-minute relief time a day at specified periods. The company, which says it already allows 24 minutes relief time, agreed to guarantee it in the contract but did not meet all the union specifications.

Opposed to Overtime

The union has opposed compulsory overtime on grounds that it has led to situations in which some plants are working overtime while workers in other plants are laid off.

The company also has insisted that it already has a strong antidiscrimination policy.

Art Thefts Hit Bright Residence

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The world-wide flurry of art thefts spread to California Sunday night when a young gunman stole four paintings valued at $670,000 from the home of a West Los Angeles industrialist.

The paintings, including two Picassos, were stolen from the home of David E. Bright, chairman of the H and B corporation, a holding company. Bright currently is on a business trip to Paris.

Jan Prosser, 24, the Brights' maid, was home alone at the time of the robbery. Miss Prosser, who came from her native Wales seven weeks ago, said the gunman forced her into a closet and then spent six minutes selecting his paintings.

He stole Pablo Picasso's "Sebastian," valued at $400,000; Picasso's "Looking Through the Window," valued at $100,000; Amadeo Modigliani's "Portrait of a Woman," worth $150,000; and an unnamed abstract by Italian painter Afro Basaldella, valued at $20,000.

"The robber showed amazing discrimination," said Bright's son, Edward, 25. He said there were about 40 paintings in the mansion, with a total value of around $2 million. He said all were insured.

Failures Fail To Slow Down Space Program

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. — (UPI) — The development of two top-priority space systems designed to protect the United States against sneak attack from space didn't slow down today despite two spectacular failures Saturday.

The disappointing launchings of a SAMOS picture-taking satellite and the Army's Nike-Zeus anti-missile missile came less than 75 miles and half an hour apart.

The two-ton SAMOS satellite exploded on its launch pad here.

The Zeus, a solid fuel rocket designed to destroy enemy missiles high in space, fared little better. It blew up six seconds after being launched from Point Mugu.

Despite the explosion of the Zeus on its first test here and the first one open to newsmen, the Army said it was "pleased" with the results.

The Air Force, like the Army, said disappointing performance would not slow down development of the new space system.

Neither service would say what caused the explosions, nor when the next shots were scheduled.

Ike Tours GOP, Gives Pep Talk on Coming Election

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower today took a group of freshmen Republican congressmen on a tour of the historic Gettysburg battlefield and then gave them a political pep talk on next year's election.

The schedule included a tour of the President's farm for the new GOP House members and a luncheon highlighted by a question and answer session.

Eisenhower met the group near the Robert E. Lee battlefield monument located not far from his farm. The monument marked the spot where the Confederate general stood July 3, 1863, observing the battle.

HOFFA SAYS

Truck Contract Okay, Anyway

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters union, said Sunday the disapproval of a Los Angeles local would not prevent the expected overall ratification of a trucking industry contract covering union members in 11 western states.

The final votes on the contract should be known today.

Although some factions of the Teamsters in Southern California have complained that Hoffa didn't win enough in the negotiations, he said he is pleased with the results, which include improvements aimed at stabilizing employment and job security. He estimated his package at nearly 65 cents an hour or almost 22 cents an hour for the three-year period covered by the proposed contract.

At a meeting Saturday, Local 208 voted down the contract, 762-150, apparently because of the contention of many members that they should have the same pay scale as Teamsters in the San Francisco area.

Hoffa said he had received a time schedule from employers to equalize the wage rates.

Teamster Local 224 ratified the contract Saturday, 1,460 to 169.

Watchdog Panel Seen on Military Leader Muzzle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Armed Services Committee is expected to ask its regular watchdog panel to check on any muzzle of military leaders instead of launching a proposed investigation.

Well informed sources said the Senate group would shelve the proposal by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., for an investigation and ask the Senate preparedness subcommittee to keep an eye on such activities.

Thurmond charged that strong anti-Communist statements by military leaders had been softened or suppressed by the Pentagon. He asked that a special investigating group conduct a $75,000 inquiry into what he called a conspiracy to gag the military men.

The Armed Services Committee, which held hearings on Thurmond's proposal last week, was scheduled to reach its decision early this week. Sources said it would refer Thurmond's charges to the preparedness group headed by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

At the same time, Stennis would be in a position to assure that an inquiry into public affairs policies would be conducted in such a way as not to impede other Defense Department activities in a time of mounting crisis.

Seek Light On Loss in Lie-Detector

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Detectives investigating the disappearance of 7-year-old Ramona Irene Price said today they hoped results of lie-detector tests given two brothers would shed some light on the child's fate.

The brothers were arrested Thursday night in a local trailer court. J. F. McVarnish, a lie-detector specialist with the state Bureau of Criminal Identification, administered the tests Saturday and then returned to Los Angeles to study the results.

Ramona disappeared Sept. 2 after telling her father she was going to walk to a new home seven miles away to inspect it.

A Hamilton Air Force Base bloodhound later followed the child's scent to a country club 1.7 miles from her old home and there lost it. Police fear she was kidnapped.

Louise W. Hill Passes Away

Word was received by friends in Palm Springs today of the death of Mrs. Louise W. Hill at her home in St. Paul, Minn., last week, following long ill health.

Mrs. Hill is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hannes School, and three sons, Louis Jr., Jerome and Cortlandt.

Mrs. Hill formerly resided in Little Araby and was well known here.

EATING PRETTY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The average expenditure for food per household during the past eight years has increased less than 20 cents a week.

Testifying last week, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said it was up to the committee to decide whether—and how—any investigation should be conducted. He said, however, that he would be "less than frank" if he did not voice the hope that an inquiry would not divert key personnel at a time of very serious national crisis.

175,000 More Jobs for State

REDONDO BEACH (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown today predicted that federal defense spending would soon create 175,000 new jobs in California.

The governor based his prediction on his estimate that California would receive "almost $1 billion of additional defense money out of some $4 billion to be spent in the months ahead."

In a speech prepared for a Redondo Beach civic luncheon, Brown said the new jobs and state efforts to upgrade workers' skills would cut the California unemployment rate to under 5 per cent in the years ahead.

Statistics for July showed the rate to be 6.8 per cent of a 6.1 million member civilian work force.

The state effort to upgrade workers' skills currently awaits a conference in Los Angeles Nov. 27-28. Brown called the meeting Saturday to discuss ways of aiding unemployed workers or workers whose jobs were being threatened by automation.

S.S. Hope Homeward Bound After Year at Sea

Palm Desert Engineer Aboard Her

PALM DESERT — A world-traveled engineer who spent 52 weeks with the S. S. Hope, a mercy ship which carried medical care and training to thousands of southeast Asians, is due home soon.

Charles A. Strohacker, son of Mrs. E. C. Yates, Villa Shadowmount owner here, will return with his ship into Golden Gate harbor in San Francisco Thursday.

For Strohacker, the cruise will be the end of a year's volunteer service, on leave of absence from the American President Lines. As a senior engineering officer aboard the big President series luxury liners, Strohacker has girdled the globe repeatedly. As a U. S. Navy reserve commander, he served on the major seas of the earth during World War II.

Sun Call

Strohacker called The Desert Sun via radio-telephone from Indonesia this summer, marking the first direct news media contact with the big white ship. He reported enthusiastic reception of the project by all the peoples aided, and warm thanks from the governments of Indonesia, Viet Nam and other nations in the southeastern chain of island-peninsula states.

Comdr. Strohacker reported to The Desert Sun that the volunteer doctors and nurses of the S. S. Hope had performed 660 major operations in Indonesia, treated 17,500 patients, and held a marathon 800 classes for medical personnel. Its total for aid was more than 12,000 operations, 28,000 patients. A major step in Indonesian health was the mass X-ray project by the Hope complement.

Supplies

In addition to medical aid, the S. S. Hope carried 80,000 pounds of powdered milk, 86 pounds of medical equipment, 4,000 medical journals, 2,000 artificial limbs and 2,000 other medical articles to the Indonesian people.

The visit in that humid nation was topped by the Oct. 28 visit of President Sukarno, who expressed his country's thanks.

The S. S. Hope, sponsored by the People to People Health Foundation, headed by Dr. William B. Walsh, carried 230 hospital beds on her cruise. The 15,000-ton ship had medical laboratories, examination rooms, class and demonstration rooms in addition to her large surgical bay. Her normal medical complement included seven doctors, 22 nurses, eight lab technicians and three X-ray technicians, plus one dentist and two pharmacists.

"The ship is accomplishing her mission," Strohacker had reported, prior to steaming the big white symbol of mercy for the Golden Gate it had left on Sept. 22, 1960.

Jacqueline Cochran of Odlum ranch, Indio, today held all aerial speed records for women. Northrop Corp. announced Sunday that the desert area aviatix covered a 1,000 kilometer course at an unofficial speed of 640.324 miles per hour. The previous record of 463.670 was held by Elizabeth Roselli of France.

Miss Cochran's record was set Friday when she flew from Edwards Air base to a point near Yuma and back in 58 minutes, 22.05 seconds over the narrow 1,000 kilometer course.

The day before she had established a new record for 500 kilometers at a speed of 680.855 m.p.h. to crack her own record of 639.6 set on August 25. She also holds the 100 kilometer mark set in 1953.

Long Voyage Claimed Outstanding Success

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nearly a year ago, on Sept. 22, 1960, a trim white hospital ship sailed through San Francisco's Golden Gate and headed for the distant South Pacific Islands of Indonesia.

Her name was the S. S. Hope. Her mission: To share America's modern medical knowledge with the people of underdeveloped nations in Asia.

The good ship Hope is now on the way home from Indonesia, and is due to reach San Francisco Thursday.

Dr. William B. Walsh, Washington heart specialist who is the president and founder of the private foundation which sent the Hope to Asia, said today its year-long voyage has been an "outstanding success."

First Mass X-Ray

During its eight months visit to Indonesia, and a subsequent visit of nearly four months to South Vietnam, the Hope's medical staff treated 28,000 patients, performed 1,200 major operations.

It carried out the first mass chest X-ray program in Indonesia, where tuberculosis is the number one disease. And it administered South Vietnam's first mass vaccination program for children.

But these deeds were in a sense incidental to the Hope's primary mission, which was to serve as a teaching hospital at which Asian doctors and nurses could learn the latest American methods.

"Teaching was stressed because this enables Hope to have a more enduring effect on local health conditions than would attempts at widespread treatment of individuals," Dr. Walsh explained. "There are too many millions in need of treatment for a relatively small project to have broad impact in actually curing diseases. Concentration on training enables Hope to help upgrade the local capability to diagnose and treat."

Endorsed By Two Presidents

The Hope's teaching program was carried on through actual hospital procedures, classroom lectures, movies, film strips and the use of a closed circuit television system which enabled visiting doctors to watch over every detail of surgical operations and examinations aboard the 230-bed hospital ship.

Although the project was warmly endorsed by former President Eisenhower and by President Kennedy, it was sponsored and financed entirely by private funds.

Americans contributed about $3.5 million through Dr. Walsh's "people-to-people health foundation" whose headquarters are here. The U.S. drug industry contributed about $1 million worth of medical supplies. The ship itself, a former Navy hospital ship which had been in mothballs, was the government's only contribution. The U.S. President Line provided a crew and operated the ship at cost.

Major Disease Hits Education

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If this essay were a filly or a colt, its blood lines could be stated like this:

By the Saturday Review out of the Saturday Evening Post.

In their current editions these periodicals deal with a tragedy of the modern United States. This tragedy is the dictatorship of an educational system that blindly refused to teach Johnny how to read, spell, or write.

Thomas M. Cooley II is dean of the University of Pittsburgh Law School. His article in the Sept. 12 Saturday Review begins like this:

Can't Write

"A major and malignant disease has taken hold of the body of American education: The graduates of our colleges, including the best ones, cannot write the English language."

Dean Cooley's article is captioned: "A Law School Fights Illiteracy."

The article relates that this shocking illiteracy among college graduates is not limited to graduate schools of law. The deans of engineering, medicine—you name it—all complain that the bachelors of art or of science with whom they contend are illiterates.

Dean Cooley does not believe that faulty elementary school teaching of reading is the cause of this alarming condition. Instead he lays the blame on the failure of high school and college teachers to compel their students to learn to write by writing. The dean recommends that high schools and colleges bear down hard in their English courses on composition and expository writing.

Maybe so. But how can they write if they cannot read, or spell? Frances W. Rummel writes in the current (Sept. 9) Saturday Evening Post of the catastrophe which has overtaken children in this country in the past 30 years. It was about 30 years ago that Columbia Teachers College went overboard for progressive education and in the process abandoned the phonetic system of teaching reading to first and early grade elementary school children.

More Serious Now

Columbia Teachers College is the brood mare of U.S. education. Its prestige is great; its influence national. Its achievement seems to have been devastating. The teaching methods adopted by Columbia and now imposed on the U.S. school system become more serious each year. Miss Rummel states:

"In city after city, surveys reveal, almost half of senior high school pupils cannot read or spell beyond fourth or fifth-grade levels. Seven out of ten young people entering college these days must be groomed in remedial spelling and reading—which is to say, taught sixth-grade work."

Miss Rummel cites names and places where a return to the phonetic method of teaching reading has had amazingly good results without, however, budging the progressive educators and the mahatmas of Columbia Teachers College to lift the ban against it.

A test between students in a suburban Denver school and a school at Garwood, N.J., had these results: The phonetically taught Garwood students misspelled slightly more than 7 per cent of the words; the suburban Denver pupils botched 63 per cent. Columbia Teachers College methods prevail at suburban Denver.

Must Figure for Good Investment

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you think you have trouble figuring where and how to invest your money, you aren't alone and you must work at it for best results, an editor advises.

Maxwell S. Stewart, editor of publications for the Public Affairs Committee, a non-profit educational organization operating in the economic and social affairs fields, wrote in a pamphlet published this week that the average investor can find himself facing extremes in his investment philosophy.

He can be too cautious, Stewart wrote, or too speculative.

In setting up suggested courses open to the average citizen seeking to put his money to work, Stewart summed up his feelings by saying in the last line of his pamphlet: "Common sense, based on experience, is the best guide to wise investment."

Two Basic Types

Thousands of families have lost their savings by putting them in ill-advised or speculative ventures, he noted; on the other hand thousands of others who have kept their savings in such items as life insurance, savings bonds or savings accounts have seen the purchasing power of their earnings dwindle by half since 1940, as the dollar declined.

According to the investor's needs, he has a choice of two basic types of investment: The "dollar" or "fixed-income" investment, where the funds are put into life insurance, bonds, annuities, savings accounts, mortgages, high-grade preferred stocks; or "property" or "variable" investments, where the money is put into common stocks, real estate or commodities.

The type chosen should be determined by the needs of the family or the individual, Stewart wrote, and he cautioned the would-be investor, particularly one who is trying to determine where to put his money in the stock market, that he must consider many factors.

"All of this may sound like hard work," he wrote. "It is, make no mistake about it."

He makes these suggestions to the non-professional investor:

Get Advice

—Don't go into the "tricky field of investment" without professional advice. Information is most readily available from a reputable brokerage firm, or investment banking firm, "but they are not fortune tellers... Don't expect any adviser to do all of your thinking for you."

World's Largest Turtles May Become Extinct Soon

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — The world's largest turtles may be in danger of becoming extinct.

But the Malayan Nature Society is making efforts to save the huge reptiles, which weigh a ton when full grown. They usually lay their eggs in the warm sand along Malaya's east coast.

Recently, a nature society group, headed by Prof. J. R. Hendrickson, head of the department of zoology at the University of Malaya here, put 2,000 baby turtles into the sea.

According to Hendrickson, only about 1,000 pairs of the full grown giant turtles are believed to be in existence. The reason for their small number is unvarying egg laying habits of the turtles are well known and their eggs are almost always stolen.

Hendrickson's team put the 2,000 baby turtles to sea near Dungun on the east coast of Malaya. Skindivers who followed the turtles reported they were "swimming powerfully."

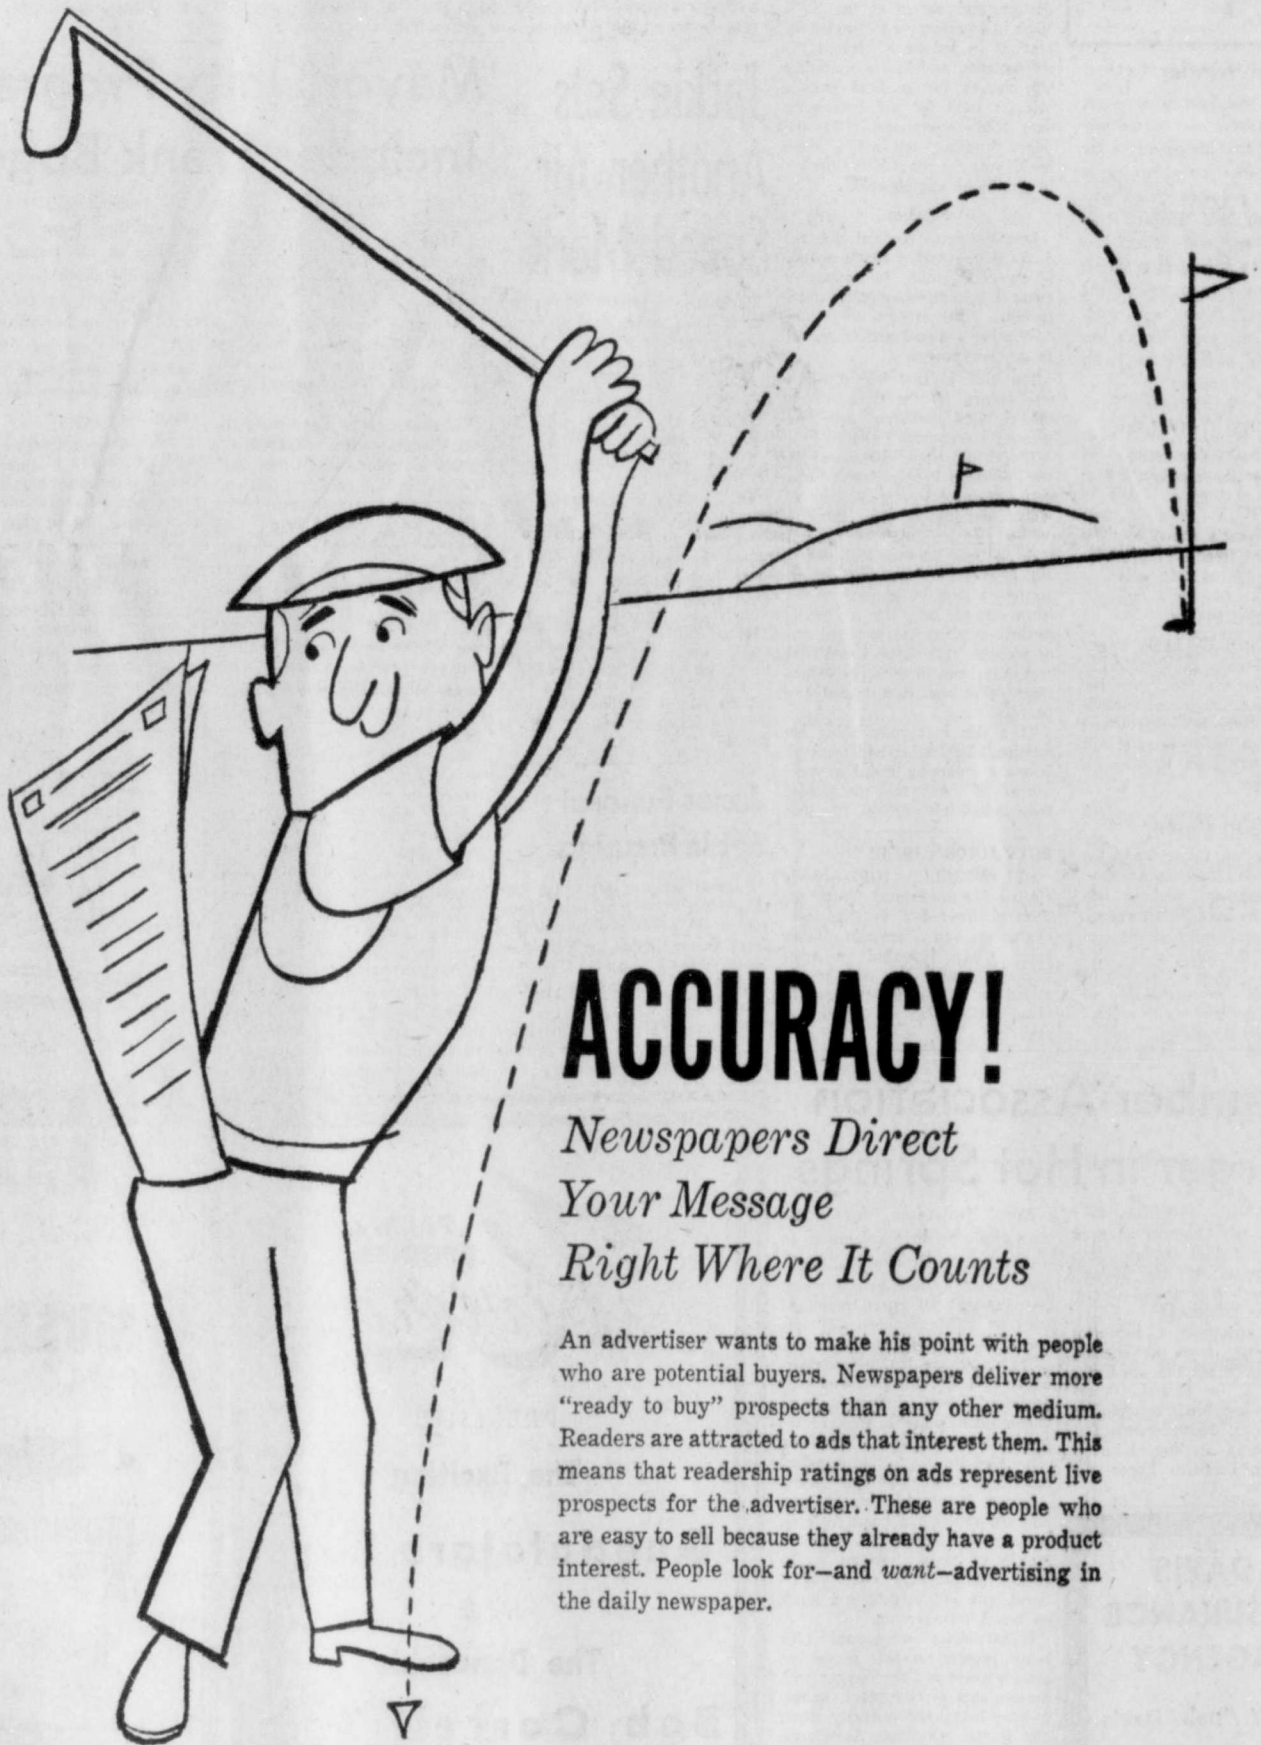

The baby turtles, which weighed only about one ounce apiece, were placed in the water by several boats and over a large area so as not to attract schools of fish.

"Their flight for survival is a tough one because their enemies are many, but the care we have taken to distribute the babies so that they will not attract schools of fish may minimize their casualties," Hendrickson said.

Many of the turtles were marked with yellow paint so they can be identified later.

Lunch Box Meals Should Be Nutritious and Imaginative

School lunch box meals should be nutritious, appetizing, imaginative, easy to carry in box or paper bag, and made with ingredients that keep for several hours without refrigeration.

To fill this tall order, here are packing tips and sandwich recipes from the consumer service bureau of a manufacturer of lunch meat casings (Visking Company). Each spread recipe serves six to eight.

—Braunschweiger - blue cheese spread: Mash 1/2 pound of braunschweiger or liver sausage. Blend in 1/2 cup of crumbled blue cheese and 2 tablespoons of mayonnaise. Spread on split, buttered French roll. Wrap tomato slices and lettuce separately to add at mealtime.

—Summer sausage salad: Mix 1/2 pound of chopped summer sausage or cervelat with 1 tablespoon of instant minced onion, 1/2 green pepper, minced, 2 tablespoons of diced pimiento, 1 stalk of celery, chopped, salt and pepper to taste and mayonnaise to moisten. Spread on buttered caraway rye bread.

—Beans 'n' franks: Mashed canned baked beans to measure 1/2 cup. Blend with 1/2 cup of finely-chopped skinless frankfurters and chili sauce to moisten. Spread on buttered hot dog buns. Pack pickles separately.

—Salami-slaw spread: Season softened butter with prepared mustard. Spread on punpernickel rye bread. Layer slices of salami, a scoop of creamy cole slaw, well-drained, and a second layer of salami, then the second slice of bread.

—Turkey - cranberry delight: On buttered Vienna bread place sliced turkey loaf or cold roast turkey, a layer of thinly-sliced canned cranberry sauce, lettuce, more turkey or loaf, and a dab of mayonnaise.

—Almost pizzas: Spread split hard rolls with softened butter seasoned lightly with garlic salt and oregano. Add Italian salami, sliced mozzarella cheese and a teaspoon of catsup or canned tomato sauce. These are good cold but may be wrapped in foil and heated in oven for home use.

—Low calorie spread: Mix 1/2 pound of diced bologna with 2 chopped hard-cooked eggs, 1/2 a green pepper, minced, low-calorie whipped dressing or creamed cottage cheese to moisten, and salt and pepper to taste. To protect unbuttered bread from soggy, separate it from filling with bread-sized pieces of waxed paper, to be removed at mealtime. Makes 6 sandwiches, 186 calories each.

—Hot dog surprise: Suspend a skinless frankfurter with a long loop of thread in a vacuum bottle of piping hot consommé. Leave thread ends dangling over top. At mealtime, use the thread to fish out the hot dog and put it in a buttered bun. Pack mustard, relish and catsup separately.

As crisp contrast to these sandwiches, include pickles, and raw vegetables, such as carrot and celery sticks, and raw cauliflower-ettes in the lunch box.

Salty and sweet threats - raisins, peanuts, marshmallows and pretzels make a hit with most youngsters. But surprise them occasionally by substituting a nickel or dime so they can buy a candy bar instead.

Soggy sandwiches will be no problem if you remember to spread butter all the way to bread crusts before adding filling, and if you pack moist ingredients, such as tomato slices and lettuce, separately.

Save time by preparing lunches the night before, and refrigerating them until the last minute.

TEENERS AND TWEENERS will be delighted when Mom serves chicken drumsticks as finger food, a chocolate-cola "Tick-tac-toe" cake and personalized bubbly bottled soft drinks. This easy to fix and look at menu is perfect for after school get-togethers.

Satisfy After-School Hunger

Good school grades come most easily to the youngsters that are well fed. Teen-age boys and girls actually require the extra calories in those refreshments they enjoy so much after school. Whether at home, or at the corner drugstore, a pleasant mid-afternoon refresher is in order.

Sugar, in one or more forms, should be included. Not only does it restore the normal body level that has been depleted during active school day, but it is the only food factor that can nourish the brain. The popularity of soft drinks with the school-age crowd is undoubtedly based in part on this little-known but scientific fact.

Now's the time to heighten your teen's popularity with an after-school party at home. Crisp hot drumsticks in a basket, and a chocolate cake spiced with cola will guarantee success. For table decorations, make little "books" out of folded paper, inscribe each guest's name on the front, and hang with string around chilled bottles of soft drink.

Here are the recipes for the Drumstick Basket and the Chocolate-cola Cake:

Drumstick Basket
(6 servings)
1 pkg (1 lb.) frozen chicken drumsticks
1 egg
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1-3 cup milk
1 cup fine bread crumbs
Deep fat

Beat together egg, flour, salt, pepper and milk. Dip each drumstick in batter and roll in crumbs. Brown in deep fat two minutes at 350 degree F. Place drumsticks in shallow pan and bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for 45 minutes or until tender.

Chocolate-Cola Cake
1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 squares chocolate, unsweetened
1 3/4 cups sifted cake flour
3/4 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cola carbonated beverage, chilled

Cream shortening and sugar together. Beat in eggs thoroughly. Blend in the melted chocolate. Sift together the sifted flour, soda and salt; stir into first mixture alternately with the cola. Bake in greased and floured 9-in. square pan (or 2 8-in. layer pans) in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes for the square cake, 30 to 35 minutes for the layers. Note: to serve a crowd, double the recipe and make a two-layer 9-inch square cake.

First Day Of School Marks New Adventure For Children

This week marks the start of a great adventure for thousands of five and six year olds - the first days of school mark the start of an experience which will profoundly influence the rest of their lives.

For the mother, the beginning of school presents many adventures and challenges, too. One of the most important challenges is seeing that her youngster enters school in the best possible health, and stays that way. The first step to good health, nutrition scientists say, is to start each day with a good breakfast.

In fact, according to Dr. Miriam Lowenberg, Head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition at Pennsylvania State University, "Research studies show that children who do not eat breakfast do less well in school, perform physical tasks less well and may be more irritable and emotionally unstable."

Breakfast commonly is the day's poorest meal, for children and parents alike. Children who skip breakfast do not make up at other meals the nutrients which they miss in the morning.

Nutrition studies show that the person who eats a good breakfast can be expected to follow sound nutrition practices in all other meals. For the mother, it is important to realize that the dietary patterns which her child adopts at age six usually are maintained through adolescence and adulthood.

But just how does a mother insure that her child, particularly the one just entering school, develops good breakfast habits? (Remembering, of course, that other meal and snacking habits also must be considered.)

Here are a few Do's and Don'ts to consider:

Do create a pleasant atmosphere at the breakfast table. The start of the day should be fun for all.

Do plan ahead for plenty of time for breakfast so the youngsters can relax and enjoy the meal.

Do build the breakfast menu around a protein-high food, such as egg, for energy, milk, plus enriched bread or toast, and a serving of citrus fruit or juice for vitamin C.

If the child resists the daily serving of egg, try substituting a hamburger, a toasted cheese sandwich or a ham sandwich.

Do protect against vitamin shortages in the diet by supplementing the breakfast with a good multiple vitamin tablet. A taste panel of youngsters helped pick the fruit flavors and colors of one particularly appealing line of tablets.

Do Not be overly concerned with the quantity of food the child consumes. Overfeeding leads to serious nutritional problems in later years. Normally a child will eat sufficient quantities to sustain him.

Do Not rely on the child for the selection of items in the breakfast menu. His self-regulation abilities are confined to quantity, not nutritional quality.

Do Not create a scene if your child on one particular day does not "feel like eating." This problem arises occasionally at the beginning of the school year, most often with first or second graders.

The best way to handle this, according to Dr. Benjamin Spock, is to let the child alone; let him take only juice or milk if that is all he cares for. If he can't even drink, let him go to school empty. It's not a good idea for a child to start the day hungry, but after he adjusts to school routine, he will gradually become hungrier at breakfast time, says Dr. Spock. And if he has not had too great a struggle with his mother over breakfast, he'll be ready to eat properly again.

Perhaps some day breakfasts will be served at school. Some schools have tried this plan and report that the children and the teachers are enthusiastic about the idea. Mothers too!

Good old golden rules days are fast approaching, and most of the schoolers are looking forward to the four R's—reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic and recesses. At recess, coeds will chat about grammar, geometry and domestic science.

Grammatically, they'll speak of the male gender. Geometrically, they'll speak of the new faces in teaching circles. Domestically, they'll speak of the latest on-campus fashions.

Femininity is in vogue again, and fainting spells could become the thing, so drag out the smelling salts, ladies, along with the rest of grandma's feminine wiles. Reminiscent of grandma's troussseau, are the new fashions that seem to be saying women are fragile creatures to be coddled and protected.

Filmy chiffons, velvets, crepes, ornate brocades and delicate florals are here to coax women's femininity to the forefront.

If you've ever eaten a tough egg that is marked with an unappetizing green ring, you know there's a trick to boiling eggs. State Starts Receiving Narcotics Cases Friday SACRAMENTO (UPI)—The state will begin receiving narcotics addicts at a rate of 40 per week under its new quarantine system next Friday, corrections director Richard A. McGee has announced.

Under the program adopted by the 1961 Legislature, judges may commit identified addicts to the Department of Corrections and they will be given a minimum of six months specialized treatment.

Later, these addicts can be granted parole but will be closely supervised through chemical testing to detect narcotic use. If they return to narcotics, —The department will set aside sections of the reception guidance centers at Vacaville and Chino for receiving male addicts and sections at the California Institution for Women at Corona for women addicts.

—Some present inmates will be shifted into other institutions to provide space for a 600-man addict confinement-treatment center at the Tehachapi Prison.

We Mean to Keep Fighting

Considerable controversy has been stirred by the 1961 amendments to the Ralph M. Brown Act which has to do with open meetings of public bodies, such as city council or county board of supervisors.

The question of open meetings involves the difference between newspaper reporters and, therefore, the public having access to action and decisions made by a public body—which usually have some impact upon personal rights or tax rates or both.

The controversial amendments enacted by the last session of the legislature become effective Sept. 15, but your newspaper, represented by the California Publishers Association, Inc., has not given up its fight for the right of the people to know what is going on in government.

We agree that amendment of the Brown Act was needed. As first outlined, close interpretations held that it was illegal for public officials to meet socially.

But there is considerable opinion now that the amendments go too far the other way and defeat the entire intent of the act. In fact, a recent interpretation City Attorney Jerry Bunker made to the Palm Springs City Council inspired inquiry by this newspaper to our own counsel and to the legal section of the Newspaper Publishers Association.

Concerned questions from newspapers throughout the state have brought promises of clarification on the amendments from a number of officials.

Public concern has been aroused in some areas by such printed charges as were made by a Northern California Paper, that:

"A mystery amendment threatens to destroy the Brown Act which for the past eight years has been the bulwark against secret government in California." And which went on report that of three Assemblymen who backed the new bill:

"All three deny responsibility for the (questionable) amendment and say they don't know how it got into the bill."

The promised clarifications may clear the air—and it may be that wise consideration of their actions by our public officials may help to make the amended Brown Act work as it intended.

Your Desert Sun hopes this proves to be the case, but makes the promise to continue a determined effort to keep its readers informed on governmental activities.

No Brazilian specialist would dare call Janio Quadros a moderate. His position, before he left the stage so suddenly only seven months into a five-year presidential term, was more that of a juggler moving restlessly between right and left. But his withdrawal from office, whether quixotic or pressured, leaves an awful gap in the moderate center of Brazilian affairs.

For all his flamboyance—and irresponsibilities such as arbitrarily honoring Cuba's Che Guevara—Senhor Quadros was actively supplying the political glue needed to keep Brazil together while it completes the takeoff stage of its economy. The financial reforms he was instituting—the ruthless war on corruption and overgrown bureaucracy, plus the social reforms he had demanded—continue to be essential to Brazil's growth.

The kind of mobocracy that Vice-President Goulart and his followers of the left seek to ride to power cannot help Brazil to reach its goal of being able to generate its own capital and diversify its economy. Nor, certainly, can the opposite right-wing philosophy of no-land reform, no-tax reform—a folly guaranteed to decrease popular support for government and industry plans.

Exactly what happened last weekend is not yet known. President Quadros may have sought to win a firmer crown by renouncing office, as rulers from Caesar to Sihanouk have done. He may simply have given up. Or he may possibly have been forced out by Army-rightist pressure. (Until Quadros took office, despite an enormous deficit and pressing development needs, Brazil spent a whopping 30 per cent of its budget on armed forces; last year gave generals and admirals a 100 per cent pay increase.)

But whatever the cause and the eventual result, Brazil's friends and neighbors in the hemisphere cannot avoid pressing any new government in Brasilia to follow the basic course of financial and social reform begun by Senhor Quadros. The welfare and progress of the whole neighborhood are heavily involved.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1951

Palm Springs Judge Eugene Theriault made a presentation to the Riverside County Bar Association, asking that a branch of the Superior Court be set up in Palm Springs. In a resolution at the same meeting, the bar association backed the proposition, and planned a meeting with Chief Justice Phil Bibson.

Beaumont-Banning area entered strong protests against the realignment of Riverside County Supervisorial districts and asked that any program "be put off for at least two years."

SEPTEMBER 11, 1941

Palm Springs was looking for a replacement of its city clerk, with Guy Pinney resigning the position to take over the job of city judge and justice of the peace.

Word was received in Palm Springs that Tom Kieley and Betty Coffman were married in Yuma, Ariz. Kieley was then "an extremely well liked young man holding a responsible position at Lykken's store."

Jackson Elliot of New York started construction of a $9,000 home on the Chino Canyon Mesa.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1931

The Division of Fish and Game warned local hunters to be careful of their targets. There has been a lot of injury to pigeons, which are mistaken for dove. The division also said that both dove and pigeons were being injured during the racing of the game birds.

Keeping Protests Sharp

Dear Abby . . .

. . . by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your wise answer to "Church Widow." As a pastor I am aware that many people regard church fund-raising activities such as bingo and carnivals, as a service to God. Yet we would do better to leave undone much of what has been done in His name.

I disagree when you say that most churches need funds (and fund-raising) for survival. They DO need funds, but fund-raising affairs hurt more than they help. Our churches need significant gifts from dedicated members. But fund-raising affairs are only excuses to get non-members to help the church pay its bills. Very sincerely,

Sanford Wright,
Westminster Presbyterian Church.

DEAR ABBY: We are having an argument in our X-ray department about the difference between an old maid, a spinster and a career girl. Would you please settle it by defining each?

THE ROENTGENS
DEAR ROENTGENS: A career girl is an unmarried female who doesn't feel the need to apologize for being single because she is "married" to her job. An old maid is a single woman because either (a) nobody has asked her, or (b) nobody whom she wanted has asked to marry her. A spinster is an old maid somewhat advanced in years.

DEAR ABBY: I am a woman of 43. I have been married before and have a grown daughter. I am being married again, and would like to know if it is proper to wear a white dress with all white accessories. I do not mean the traditional bridal gown, with veil. I expect to be married in church with a few close friends present. I have discussed this with a friend, and she said she doesn't think I should be married in a white outfit because I've been married before. Is she correct?

SECOND TIME AROUND
DEAR SECOND: Your friend is in error. You may be married in white, provided it isn't the traditional wedding gown and veil.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

This Side of The Sun

Thirteen's unlucky, so they always say.
The youngsters can tell you, school starts that day.

Starting the day after tomorrow there'll be a strange, unnatural quiet in many a Palm Springs area home. From fairly early morning until mid-afternoon, at any rate.

WEDNESDAY MORNING the streets will be full of kids with fresh, clean faces awaiting the arrival of the school bus.

The word "fresh" is used advisedly and the word "clean" applies to what is undoubtedly a temporary situation.

In some homes there'll be a tinge of sadness as a little boy or girl sets out for his first day of school. In others, the absence of the offspring will be tempered by a feeling of relief.

NO MORE SLAMMING refrigerator doors, no more banging screen doors, no more repeated requests for something to sustain a growing child until the next meal.

Mothers may sigh and claim it's a sigh of relief because the turmoil in the home has vanished. It's up to the teachers now, they may say.

They'll probably say they relish the daytime peace but that strange quiet interlude between morning and evening is going to seem very loud to them.

NOTE WHERE an enrollment of 3,800 is expected Wednesday in the district's nine buildings and that the peak enrollment is estimated at 4,195.

School officials look for a peak enrollment of 352 in the first grade alone. That's more than there were in all elementary grades, Junior high and high school 20 years ago.

NINE BUILDINGS is almost as many rooms as they had then. There are more persons in the administrative staff now than there were teachers in 1941. There were no private schools in the desert area then. Those we have today will swell that total number of pupils the school opening will drain off the streets and playgrounds for several hours each day.

SCHOOLS RE-OPEN a little later and close a little later than they used to. That, I believe, is right.

If they wanted to go with our climate, they could even start later than they do now and continue into the summer a bit longer.

It's cooler here in June, on the average, than it is in September. A later starting and closing wouldn't have so many of the kids and teachers hot under the collar, the kids hot all over.

AND WHILE on the subject of the re-opening of schools—the three month vacation for motorists in school zones and school bus routes is at an end, too.

The streets are going to be full of kids who expect YOU to be careful when driving. There's also a strict law about school buses. Every law on the books designed to protect school children is going to be enforced to the hilt, according to A. G. Kettmann, police chief.

The kids have had caution dinned into them. But they can forget in a moment of excitement. So it's up to you.

Dodgers Drop Four Behind

SAN FRANCISCO — The Los Angeles Dodgers fell, 7-1, before home runs by Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants Sunday, and dropped four games behind the league-leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Reds appeared to be closing in on the National League pennant with a 5-2 victory over St. Louis in Cincinnati.

Billy Loes and Stu Miller, both right-handers, collaborated in a three-hitter for the Giants, with Miller getting credit for the win. He relieved Loes with none out in the fifth inning.

Miller's record now is 11-4. Stan Williams 12-11, the Dodger starter, was the loser.

Cepeda, the league run-batted-in leader with 127, drove in three with his 40th homer. Mays, second to Cepeda in National League homers, pounded his 37th.

Mays, on base with a walk when Cepeda homered, scored his third run of the game and 1,000th of his National League career.

Candlestick Park proved a nightmare for the Dodgers, who lost the last eight games they played here. The Giants won the season series between the clubs, 12-10. The 34,537 fans saw the Giants jump off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Ed Bailey's bases-loaded single. Mays slammed his homer, his third in three days, in the third for a 3-0 lead.

Loes, who didn't allow a hit in the first four innings, was chased in the fifth when Ron Fairly opened with his eighth home run. John Roseboro walked and Willie Davis singled.

Miller, the Giants' bullpen ace, came in and struck out Bob Aspromonte and got pinch-hitter Norm Larker on a pop fly. The only hit Miller allowed was Duke Snider's two-out single in the sixth.

Cepeda's homer in the fifth was clouted off southpaw Sandy Koufax, making a rare relief appearance.

The Giants' scored their final run in the seventh off Jim Gold-en on walks to Joe Amalfitano and Mays and Felipe Alou's single.

Mays and Cepeda each drove in six runs during this three-game series and collected five homers between them.

Arnett Leads Ram Win

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (UPI) — Jon Arnett scored two touchdowns yesterday to pace the Los Angeles Rams to a 21-17 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in the final exhibition game for both teams.

The Rams behind Arnett and Zake Bratkowski rolled up a 21-3 halftime advantage and held on to outlast a last period rally by Minnesota.

Two in Second

Arnett scored his touchdowns in the second period with Los Angeles ahead 7-3. He scored on a 35-yard pass play from Bratkowski with 14:30 remaining and came back eight minutes later to dash over from the nine to account for Los Angeles' last touchdown.

Les Richter tallied the first Ram touchdown near the end of the first period when he picked off a George Shaw pass and raced 42 yards into the end zone. Danny Villanueva kicked three extra points for the Rams.

Rookie Stars

Mike Mercer gave Minnesota an early lead when he booted a 22-

yard field goal in the opening period.

Rookie quarterback Fran Tarkenton engineered the Vikings' two touchdown drives. An interception gave Minnesota the ball on the Rams' 28 midway through the final period. The Vikings drove 35 yards to score with a nine yard Tarkenton-to-Dick Haley pass accounting for the touchdown.

Tarkenton crashed over from the one yard line in the closing seconds to highlight another 38-yard march. Mercer accounted for the Vikings' two extra points.

Los Angeles opens the National Football League season at Baltimore next Sunday while the Vikings host the Bears.

Los Angeles 7 14 0 0 — 21
Minnesota 3 0 0 14 — 17

Scoring:
Minnesota—FG Mercer 22.
LA—Richter 42 pass interception on (Villanueva kick).
LA—Arnett 35 pass from Bratkowski (Villanueva kick).
LA—Arnett 9 run (Villanueva kick).
Minnesota—Haley 9 pass from Tarkenton (Mercer kick).
Minnesota—Tarkenton 1 run (Mercer kick).

Why Not? L. A. Set Pre-Play Fete For Phils' Game

LOS ANGELES — The Los Angeles Dodgers will come home with full ballyhoo Monday evening.

The late-rallying squad, which has been in and out of contention for first place in the National League almost as many times as the Angels have been to seventh and back down in the American tally, will meet the Phils, who hold a firm grip on 10th slot for the NL.

Trick casting, fancy archery, sporting dogs in action, and fast-draw demonstrations will highlight a pre-game sports program Monday night in the Coliseum at the Dodgers-Phillies game.

Sponsored by Sports Council, Inc., to raise funds for conservation work of the California Wildlife Federation, the special program will be emceed by motion picture and television actor Roy Engle.

"This is a wonderful opportunity to enjoy a great ball game and at the same time do something tangible for the conservation of California's fish and game," Laycock stated, in urging all sportsmen to turn out that night.

All Stars Count

BOSTON (UPI) — The American League won the first three major-league all-star games in 1933, '34, and '35. Dizzy Dean was credited with the first National League victory when the Nationals won the 1936 game here, 4-3.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. (UPI) — The Triangle Round Robin for women pros is the only major golf tournament in which both match and medal play determine the winner.

Yanks Increase Lead in League

NEW YORK — Mickey Mantle snapped back into the home-run race, slapping out his 53rd of the season, yesterday as the New York Yankees took both games of a double header from the Cleveland Indians, 7-6 and 9-3.

The wins gave Ralph Houk's bombers a clean sweep of the five-game series and extended their winning streak to 12 games in a row.

Roger Maris failed to add to his 56 home runs for this season and still stood just four games from Babe Ruth's record of 60.

The "magic number" for the Yanks is now eight — any combination of New York victories and Detroit defeats totaling that will give the bombers the pennant.

During yesterday's melee, Cleveland's Jimmy Persall flattened one of two assailants when they charged him in the outfield and put the other to rout.

All-Time High

BOSTON (UPI) — Basketball's all-time high scoring game occurred Feb. 27, 1959 when the Boston Celtics defeated the Minneapolis Lakers, 173-139.

Rockne Win Count

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — Knute Rockne's Notre Dame football teams won 105 games, lost 12 and tied five. He coached the Irish to five perfect seasons.

TROJANS SHOW POWER IN NEW OFFENSE PLAY

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The 1961 University of Southern California football team will present a tricky new offensive with good ball-carriers and passers but may be a little weak defensively.

The Trojans should be exciting offensively at least—with a new T-formation shift installed by John McKay in his second year as head coach.

Last year's team led a 4-6 over-all record but finished second to Washington in the Big Five football conference with 3-1.

McKay gave a rundown on his 101 squad Friday for a group of touring sports writers with these remarks:

"Offensively, we're as good or better than last year. Defensively, we're hurt. We're shifting to relocate our backs in the hope of confusing the defense. We'll be one of the few T-teams in the country to shift."

"Our quarterbacks will run—not a lot, but more than some T-teams. This year our system is completely different. We'll flop our line over where it will be tough to tell we're unbalanced—at least we hope it will."

McKay put his squad through an intrasquad scrimmage for the writers, proving one thing—the offense is way ahead of the defense.

Sophomore Willie Brown who runs the 100 in 9.7, galloped for a 56-yard touchdown and gained a total of 86 yards on five carries. Third-string fullback Rich MacMahon gained 94 yards on nine carries.

In the air, No. 1 quarterback Bill Nelsen completed five of six pass attempts for 107 yards. No. 2 quarterback Pete Beathard completed nine of 18 for 125 yards.

McKay admitted he was four deep at the halfback posts with Brown and such veterans as Lynn Gaskill, Alan Shields, Carl Skvarna, Ben Wilson and Ken Del Conte.

Another fast man, Jim Bates, who has done the 100 in 9.5, will be used as a split end on either side offensively. This maneuver is designed to spring him loose for pass-catching.

The Trojans lost 16 lettermen from the 1960 squad through graduation or scholastic ineligibility. Twelve of the missing were linemen and that's the reason they'll be below par defensively. Among those gone are the McKeever brothers, Marlin and Mike, and end Dave Washington.

HOMER COUNTY occupies the attention of New York Yankee manager Ralph Houk, flanked by his sluggers, Mickey Mantle (left) and Roger Maris. Mantle added another round-

tripper Sunday, to bring his count for the season to 53, while Maris stalled on 56, just four homers from Babe Ruth's decades-old record. (UPI Telephoto)

Angels Win On Thomas Home Run

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — George Thomas hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning yesterday to give the Los Angeles Angels a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox in a game that produced a record of 222 home runs for one park in a single season.

The White Sox had a lead of 3-2 going into the seventh after Al Smith, Jim Landis and Luis Aparicio each hit solo homers. Landis' second-inning homer over the left field wall at Wrigley Field tied the old major league record of 219 set in 1957 at Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

All told, there were six home runs in yesterday's game in the home of homers, Wrigley Field.

Hunts' Record

Sylvester Discus Mark Tossed Out

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jay Sylvester's latest bid for a world discus record went out the window today because an examination by the scrupulously honest amateur track and field officials found something wrong with the field.

Army Lt. Sylvester, former Utah State star, unleashed a tremendous throw of 210 feet, 2½ inches Saturday in an all-comers meet at East Los Angeles Junior College. It was only the second time on record anyone ever threw the discus more than 200 feet. The other time also was cancelled out when officials ruled Rink Babka's 1958 heave bounced in a ditch.

Amateur athletic Union (AAU) officials examined the field Sunday and found a slope of 27 inches, compared to the 2½ allowed by regulations. While at the most the variance could have helped Sylvester by only about four feet, the irregularity completely cancelled out his brilliant series.

Although disappointed, Sylvester still could look forward to action on his pending record throw of 199 feet, 2½ inches set in Belgium last month.

The recognized world record is 196-6½.

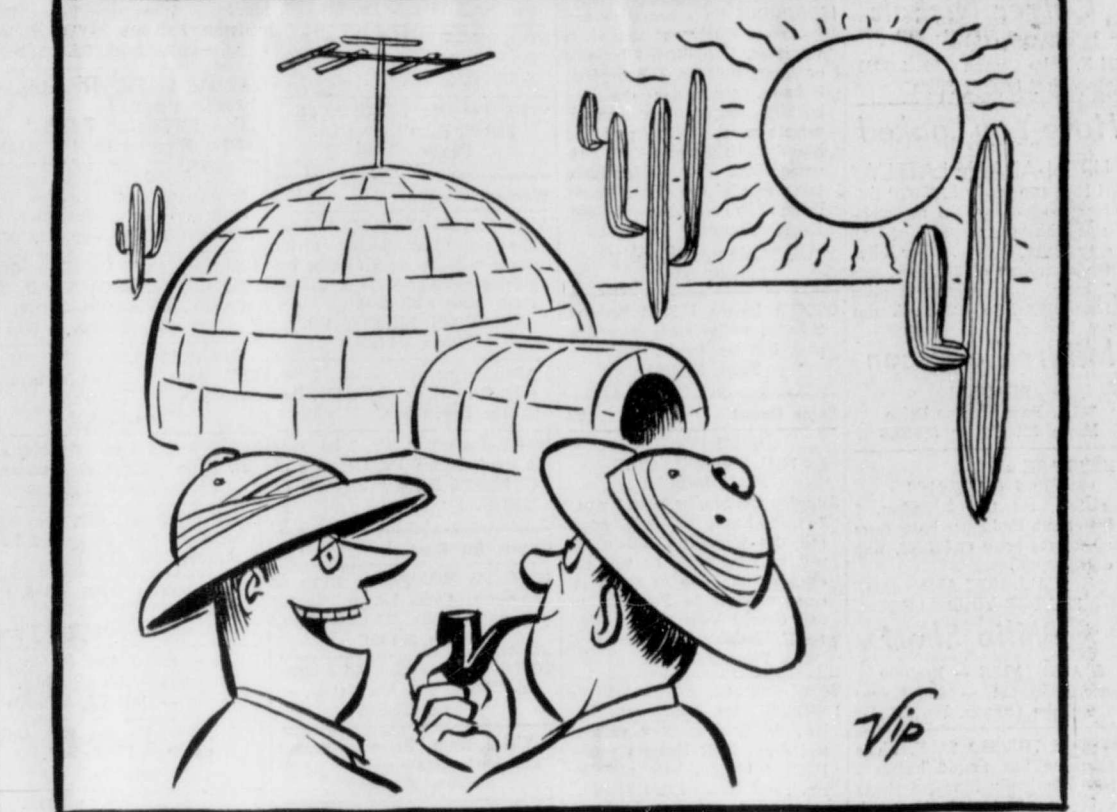

In Saturday's meet, Babka was second with a throw of 196-9½, with Bob Humphreys third at 192.
